DEDICATION

To Mrs. Sam Martin, Sponsor of the Senior Class and teacher of English and Mathematics, we the Senior Class of 1950 dedicate this,

The first Edition of the Eu-Re-Hi-Ke Daze.

For her years of service given untiringly and unceasingly, and for the devotion she has given to Eureka High School, we love and appreciate her.

Always a sympathetic aid in time of need, she is, "most loved by those who know her best."

Class History

Let us review the memories of that energetic and loyal class of Seniors, whose high school career began in September of 1946.

After having had the commencement the last year we were in grammar school, and graduating from that chapter of our lives, we were ready for high school. Although in the eighth grade we were allowed to change classes and had about the same privileges, we did not experience the same feeling as we did this long-to-be-remembered-day. We were the first class to enter high school under the law of twelve grades before graduating.

Our high school career was started under the direction of Mrs. Selby Yelverton, Mr. J. W. King, Mrs. Bessye B. Bradshaw, Mrs. James Wethington, and Mrs. Josephine Key. During this year we went to Raleigh, and spent the day visiting the historical sites and other places of interest. Many of the boys and girls took an active part in athletics. We were very proud that the Freshmen were represented in sports this first year. We were grieved that Edna Edmundson left us at this time, but happy to welcome Dorothy Howell. We adopted "Tell Me Why" as our class song.

The tenth year proved to be one of the hardest. Mrs. Martin, our home room teacher, was very helpful and considerate. In this second year of high school, Eureka won the basketball tournament-boys and girls. We entertained the Seniors in the way of a hay ride. "Sentimental Journey" was a popular song with us this year.

Juniors at last! This wonderful year meant a great deal to all. The year was begun by the picking of cotton and selling magazines in order that we might entertain the Seniors at a banquet. The Junior play "Bolts and Nuts," was presented. Everyone will remember the entertaining characters in this play. Long will we remember April 8: the Junior-Senior, night club style, which closed with music and dancing, at the Hotel Cherry, in Wilson. It was in this year that we toured Washington, visiting the many places of interest. Taking a part in the commencement exercises made the departing of our Senior friends more grievous for us, however vacating a place which had long been expected.

Seniors! The long awaited day became a reality. After much crying, and crowing, and scheming, the Senior play, "The Daffy Dills," was a big success. We now felt triumphant over many headaches and adverse conditions. The days immediately following found us busily occupied, working on the EU-RE-HI-KE DAZE. It proved to be real genuine work. However, working on the annual was much fun. We feel greatly indebted to Mr. Talton W. Jones, our new Principal and boys coach; to Mrs. Sam J. Martin, our Senior Adviser; to Mrs. Bessye B. Bradshaw, our Junior Adviser; to Mr. John Tart, the new Agriculture teacher; to Mrs. James Perkins, the Home Economics teacher and girls' coach; and to Mr. Elmer R. Loftin, Social Science teacher.

As graduation beckons and we enter into the portals of the mysterious unknown, we would like to borrow the words of the great master of drama, Shakespeare, "Parting is such sweet sorrow."

Nancy L. Irwin

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

of the Class of 1950

We the Senior Class of 1950, being of sound mind and body do declare this to be our Last Will and Testament.

Article I-To the school we bequeath what our bank account will allow, requesting that they use this in the future, to the best advantage.

Article II-To our parents we leave our deepest love and appreciation for their sacrifices offered in sending us to school.

Article III-To Mr. Jones, our Principal we bequeath one thousand dollars at his request, also our admiration for putting up with us for a whole year.

Article IV-To Mrs. Sam Martin we will and bequeath the hope that the oncoming Seniors will appreciate grammar more than we have.

Article V-To Mrs. Bradshaw we wish that the grades behind will meet their classes better than we have.

Article VI-To Mr. Loftin we leave a new hat to wear in the rain.

Article VII-To Mrs. Perkins we bequeath the new byword "comprehend" instead of her old one "do you understand."

Article VIII-To Mr. Tart we leave our best wishes for a successful career in teaching.

Article IX-To the Juniors we leave our ability to raise money. We also leave to them our mirror minds so that they can see their way around next year.

Article X-To the Sophomores we leave our ability to settle down to work when necessary.

Article XI-We the Freshmen we leave our ability to learn and make passing grades so that they may graduate in 1953.

Article XII-We, as individual Seniors, wish to make certain bequest to some of the high school students during their remaining years at Eureka.

Item 1-Nora Davis leaves her curly locks to Margie Boyette.

Item 2-Nancy Irwin leaves her personality to Richard "Darling" Darden.

Item 3-Lexine Kirby leaves her cow lick to Shelton Owens.

Item 4-Billy Smith wills his ability to copy French to Dot Darden, because of her ability to copy Geometry.

Item 5-Jean Chase leaves her ability to make Mr. Loftin laugh to Jean Yelverton.

Item 6-Charles Smith bequeaths his artistic ability to Carlton Smith.

Item 7-Rudolph Tyndall leaves his singing ability to Jack Edmundson.

Item 8-Hugh Minshew wills his foolishness to Beverly Bogue.

Item 9-Merriam Lewis leaves her ability to play guard on the basketball team to Emily Little.

Item 10-Pattie Kearney leaves her slender figure to Margaret West.

Item 11-Mary Owens wills her quiet ways to Christine Lewis.

Item 12-Ruby Ballance wills her old French papers to Edith Pender in the hopes that if she ever takes French again these papers will help.

Item 13-Ruby Lee Smith leaves her promptness to Marie Sauls.

Item 14-Juanita Mooring leaves her wit to Alma Howell.

Item 15-Marie Lancaster wills her giggles to Elizabeth Edmundson.

Item 16-Billy Ray Yelverton leaves his athletic ability to Pete Bass.

Item 17-George Edmundson wills his speed to Douglas Wooten.

Item 18-Leonard Mayo leaves his religion to Billy Langston.

Item 19-Don Shackelford bequeaths his ability to operate the picture machine to Charles Davis.

In this manner we do dispose of all our worldly goods and possessions, and wish that those whom we leave at dear old Eureka High School may use these gifts to the best of their advantage.

On this, the twelfth day of January, nineteen hundred and fifty, the class of '50 of Eureka High School do gather together and sign this, our Last Will and Testament.

Class Poem

The Senior Class hails you with smiles bright and clear;
As we lift our glad voices in songs full of cheer.
May we in the future
Be brave, pure, and bright,
And love our class colors
The blue and the white.
We will plan the things we want to do,
And stick until we put them through;
To learn our way and earn our way,
And to do our duty every day;
To learn to be content with nothing but the best,
This, dear Seniors is the greatest test.
We, the Seniors, have no fear,
We hold our high aims dear.
And we are determined our goal to make
For our class honor is at stake.
We pass the first milestone
How great sounds the name,
Seniors--here's to health, wealth and fame!

Class Song

Our best to you
May your dreams come true
May Eureka times
Never fall behind
And through the years
Keep our school days dear
May each souvenir
Make a memory in your heart.
Remember this
Each new day's a wish
That we'll all succeed
In our thoughts and deeds.
So here's to you
May your skies be blue
And your life, blessed
That's our best to you.

School Song

Here's to our colors white and blue
Dear old Eureka how we love you
And to prove our faith in thee
We'll go onward to victory.
Rah! Rah! Rah!

We love our school, she stands for right
We'll pull for her with all our might
We're proud of her, she's our friend
We'll love her until the end.
Rah! Rah! Rah!

Here's to our colors white and blue
Dear old Eureka how we love you
And to prove our faith in thee
We'll go onward to victory.

Humor

Mrs. Bradshaw (in Biology Class): "Kissing is a good way to transmit germs."
Pete M.: "Good Gosh, it's perfect."
Billie S.: "I always do my hardest work before breakfast."
George E.: "What's that?"
Billie S.: "Getting up."
Miss Janie: "Jean, why were you late this morning?"
Jean C.: "Why the bell rang before I got here."
Mr. Loftin: "Why did you put quotations marks at the first and last of that exam paper, Juanita?"
Juanita M.: "I was quoting the girl in front of me."
Hugh M.: "Angle A plus angle B is equal to angle C."
Donald S.: "How do you know that?"
Hugh: "Aw, any fool knows that."
Mrs. Smith: "Ruby Lee, what are you doing out there?"
Ruby Lee: "I'm looking at the moon, mother."
Mrs. Smith: "Well, tell the moon to go home, and come in off that porch. It's nine o'clock."
Teacher: "Name the races of man."
Charles S.: "Foot race, horse race, and automobile race."
Ruby B.: "Which is the more important, the sun or the moon?"
Mary O.: "The moon is more important because it shines at night when you need the light."
Marie L.: "What is the chief cause of divorce?"
Billie Y.: "Marriage."
Nora D.: (holding book): "This book will do half of your work for you."
Rudolph: "I'll take two."
Pattie: "Mr. Jones, is it true that married men live longer than single men?"
Mr. Jones: "No, it just seems longer."
Nancy: "I had a pet cow once."
Merriam: "Did she give Pet Milk?"
Friend: "What do you plan to study after graduation?"
Lexine: "I plan to study for a M.R.S. degree at any college."
Mr. Jones: (to students in back of room): "Can you all hear me back there?"
Chorus from back row: "No Sir."
If there is just one smile from you, our work hasn't been in vain.

TO THOSE WHO ADVERTISED

Just a line or two to say
How much we thank you for your aid
In helping us to make this book,
A volumn that will tell to all
The progress that our school has made.
You've shown interest, and friendship, too
In all the work we're trying to do.
May health and wealth your comrades be,
And bring you all prosperity.
